

Summary

I built a webpage using only HTML and CSS. I divided the page into four sections using `` elements. I downloaded all the asset icon images from Figma and added them to my project. For styling, I used CSS classes for each section and applied different background colors with gradients I created using cssgradient.io. After completing the design, I deployed the project on GitHub to make it live and accessible.

Deployed Link : <https://shxrox.github.io/E25-Internship-Assignment-Front-End-development-/>